

Perthshire Society of Natural Science
Botanical Section Promotional Programme
Autumn and Winter Talks 2021

This year has proved difficult for our Section, including drawing together a talks programme. Instead of providing our own, we are promoting the programme of the PSNS and other societies with similar interests. We will make the same arrangement for the winter and spring of 2022. We have selected a number of online talks to fit the coming months. We hope you will enjoy our selection.

Perthshire Society of Natural Science Curious Minds Series

The programme for 2021/22 can be viewed from the following link and making arrangements for purchasing tickets (www.culturepk.org.uk/whats-on/curiousminds6/). Our selection follows:

5 November Dr Nick Gardiner: “A potted history of Plate Tectonics.”

19 November Prof Colin Moffat: “Turning the tide of human impact on Scotland’s seas.”

3 December Dr Nathan Bailey: “Rapid Evolution.”

Botanical Society of Scotland

The BSS runs monthly talks. If you wish to be able to join the following talks, please e-mail: publicity@botanical-society-scotland.org.uk:

21 October Prof Hilary Rogers: “The science behind the beauty of flowers.”

16 December Dr Chris Ellis: “Scotland’s Rainforests”.

Botanical Society of Scotland and Botanical Society of Britain and Ireland

Annually, both societies come together to provide a conference for anyone interested in botany. This year’s event takes place online, with six hours of activities, including talks and workshops for plant identification. For a programme and booking please use the following link.

<https://www.tickettailor.com/events/botanicalsocietyofbritainireland/559372>

6 November Scottish Botanists Conference

Botanical Society of Scotland and Dundee Naturalist’s Society

Contact the Dundee Naturalists to book the following online talk; e-mail lornaward@gmail.com:

23 November Jim McIntosh: “The work of the Botanical Rough Squad in the Scottish Mountains.”